Exams and tests

Web application

evaexam is a web-based assessment system, developed for universities, colleges, professional bodies and societies. Our user-friendly system is scalable and robust, offering a range of configurable options. evaexam can create online exams and tests with great ease but, if you prefer, you can also print them out on paper to use in the old-fashioned way.

Take a look at the features and solutions offered by evaexam:

» Versatile and customisable

Configurable features allow a range of formative and summative assessments. You can add text, images, practice questions on a choice of templates (for e.g. test, quiz, exam).

» Wide range of questions types and grading options

Wide choice of question types including single, multiple choice, true/false, open, KPrim and grading scales and scoring options.

» Question Library

Create a question library to save time in generating scripts. Question randomisation generates different versions to reduce the opportunities for collusion.

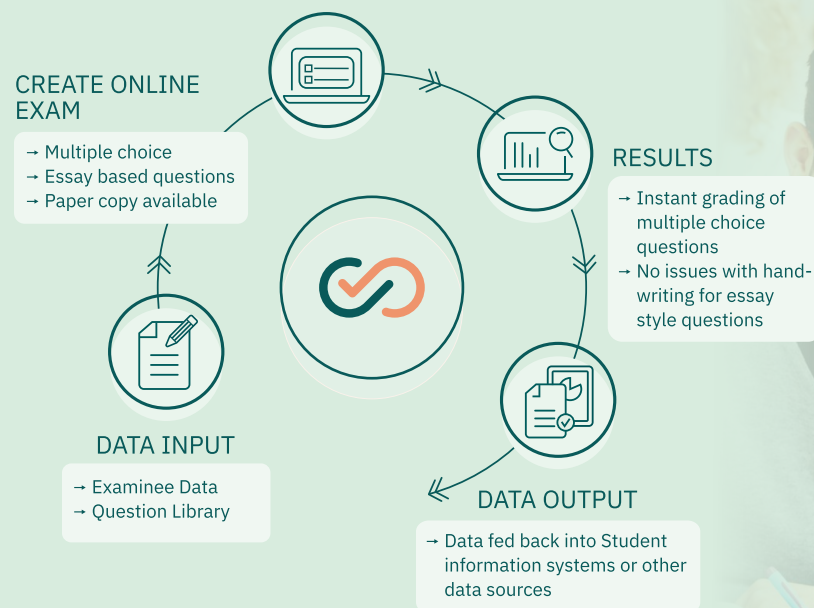

» You Set the Rules

Set the parameters of your assessment. Set the pass/fail rules. Set the number of attempts allowed. Set the start/end timings for each assessment. The possibilities are there and you are in charge.

» Full VLE integration

No need to bring your students to our platform, take the exam to them with full integration to your VLE. Our system is fully responsive, so you can engage your audience via the Cloud or on a mobile device or a PC.

The evaexam Process

Examine Innovatively » Evaluate Efficiently

Proctoring

Integration with Proctorio, ensuring the total learning integrity of every assessment, every time. Proctorio eliminates human error, bias, and much of the expense associated with remote proctoring and identity verification.

Accessible

Easy to use for students as well as for the administrators. Upload your users to our software and an automated invitation to participate in the exam will be sent to them.

Time-saving

Automated marking of multiple choice and true/false questions with instant results.

Immediate Response

Instant PDF report to candidate for closed questions confirming pass/fail on completion of assessment.

✓ Streamline Online Marking

Built-in assessment-specific marking and scoring instructions and automatic answer-sheet generation for examiner review.

✓ Tracking and Reporting

Reports at the click of a button with question analytics, grade distribution and data export options.

✓ Certification

Our automated exam certification process handles all the administration and distribution of certification.

✓ Fully Web-based

Our web-based applications means that there is no need to install any software on your systems.

✓ Secure

Support for exam caching and browser locking to make the process safe and secure.

✓ Support and Training

Our company's success has been built on the delivery of high quality training and support and excellent customer service. You can be sure that we will there to support you throughout your evaexam journey.

Don't just take our word for it, see what our customers say...

"At the outbreak of Covid-19, we needed to act quickly to support our training providers around the world where paper exams were not an option. The evasys team were very responsive and guided us through one of the quickest system set-ups ever. We were running pilots within a week and receiving excellent feedback. evaexam is easy to navigate and gives us complete autonomy and control to operate. Where we have come across challenges, the team was always on hand to come up with suggestions and solutions. This level of care has meant that we have been able to get on with 'business as usual', continue working with providers in a much more streamlined and modern way and evasys has been there, supporting us every step of the way with evaexam."

Lisa Williams, Head of Commercial Operations - Qualifications and Training, The Chartered Society for Worker Health Protection (BOHS)

"The time saved on marking is obviously one of the main selling points, and I am very satisfied with the accuracy of the process. I also like the fact that I can easily locate an electronic copy of a specific script if approached by a student who has a queries about his or her results. The ability to do some post-exam analysis – i.e. to identify which topics or question types students found more difficult – is another obvious benefit."
